BRITISH CABINET DIVIDED.

APPEAL TO THE COUNTRY EX-PECTED IN NOVEMBER.

Political Situation Developing Slowly -Labor Candidate Wins in the Barnard Castle Election-Tariff Issue May Be the Cause of Unionist Defeat.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, July 25 .- The situation in domestic politics in England develops very slowly. The result of the Barnard Castle election to-day throws little or no light on party prospects.

There was great interest in this election, as it was the first one that has been held since Mr. Chamberlain brought forward his tariff proposals, and it was stated that the result would turn on the question of protection or free trade.

In the last general election Sir Joseph Pease, Liberal, received 5,036, and Col. Vane, Unionist, 3,545 votes. This year there were three candidates in the field-Mr. Beaumont, Liberal; Col. Vane, Unionist, and Mr. Henderson, the Labor candidate, who won. The vote was Henderson, 3,670; Vane, 3,323; Beaumont, 2,809.

Mr. Henderson was until recently the official Liberal agent in the constituency, and is personally popular. Col. Vane is also very strong, and the fact that he polled 222 votes less than in the general ection of 1900 may be due to the influence of the cry of a little loaf of bread, for he is a supporter of Mr. Chamberlain's protective tariff proposals. On the other hand the best opinion is that the contest was influenced more by the Education act than by any other subject.

Thus if any deduction can be drawn from the election, it is that the autumn campaign which will follow the rising of Parliament in August is to settle whether the country supports the Colonial Secretary or not. Official assurances are given that the Government absolutely does not contemplate an early general election, but there is a general belief that it will come in March, by which time Colonial Secretary Chamberlain will have put forward his scheme and the leaders will have declared themselves on one side or the other.

There is yet a third opinion, which is supported by many that when the Cabinet meets in November at the usual meeting prelimmary to the new session, it will be found that its members are too divided to carry on the Government and that an appeal to the country will follow. But it is certain that every effort will be made to avoid it, and party discipline will be exerted to the utmost to avoid a general upheaval at the end of the

The speculation as to the result of the general election, whenever it comes, is still a matter of great difficulty, depending on the effect of the statement of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain on his return from South Africa that the day of the United Kingdom is ended and that of the British Empire is about to dawn. There are those who are convinced that Mr. Chamberlain will effect a diagonal cleavage in existing parties and come in as the first Prime Minster of a party whose main policy will be shire, Viscount Goschen, Sir Michael Hicks- out the island as a legal holiday. Beach, the Right Hon. C. T. Ritchie, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Lords James, Cross, Northbrook and Lytton, and such young Unionists as are represented by Winston Churchill, Lord Hugh Cecil and Ian Malcolm, to mention only the best known names, cannot remain in the same ministry as Mr. Chamberlain.

Prime Minister Balfour still refuses to matters. The attitude of the Government must, indeed, with the present divergence of opinion in the Cabinet, be tion by one Minister would assuredly be followed by a disclaimer by another.

This position may be seen from the correspondence between a Unionist Member and Sir Alexander Hood, the Government whip. The former had been attacked in the press as being in opposition to the Government for saying that while he was not opposed to an inquiry into fiscal matters he was strongly opposed to the taxation of foodstuffs. The Member in question wrote to Sir Alexander asking whether that line was inconsistent with party allegiance. The reply of the Government whip was:

"Nothing in your speech is inconsistent with party allegiance. The Government is engaged in an inquiry and to such you are not opposed. The fact that you are opposed to taxation of food does not carry with it any imputation of hostility to the Government."

Meanwhile the Free Trade Unionist Members of the House of Commons are complaining that their election agents are receiving from Birmingham pamphlets and leaflets advocating Mr. Chamberlain's proposal for distribution among their constituents, although the Government has not yet declared those proposals as part of their policy. This touches upon the question now being discussed as to which machine with its funds and excellent or-

"The King, before leaving, commands me to beg you to convey to all his people in Dublin his deep appreciation of the loyalty and affection with which he and the Queen were surrounded during their stay. Their Majesties forever will cherish the memory of these days, during which every incident but confirmed their belief that the inhabitants of this illustrious city may, under God's providential guidance, confidently look forward to blessings commensurate with the keenness of their intelligence and the warmth of their hearts."

The King and Queen had a rousing welcome at Newtownards. Later they took an automobile to Portaferry, where they crossed Strangford Lough aboard the gunboat Hebe and visited Lord De Ros, the oldest peer in the realm. Although the district is strongly Nationalist, the people gave their Majesties a most hearty reception.

LORD BAGOT'S AMERICAN BRIDE. He Married Miss Lillian May of Baltimore.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, July 25.—The wedding of Miss Lillian May, daughter of Mrs. Henry Aay of Baltimore, to Lord Bagot was celebrated quietly to-day at Brompton Oratory. Her brother, George May, gave the bride away. There were no bridesmaids. The 1 on. Heneage Legge was the best man. After luncheon at the Hyde Park Hotel the couple left for the baron's country seat at Blithfield, Augeley.

Lord Bagot, who was born in 1856, was regarded as a confirmed bachelor, and his engagement to Miss May, a famous Baltimore beauty, was received with great surprise. The Bagots are the oldest of the Staffordshire families and held their lands there long before the Norman Conquest. The present Lord Bagot succeeded his father in the title in 1887. He has an estate of about 30,000 acres. In politics Lord Bagot is a Conservative. He has held a number of honorary positions, including that bagot is a Conservative. He has need a number of honorary positions, including that of aide-de-camp to the Marquis of Lorne when the latter was Governor-General of Canada. There is a magnificent collection of pictures in the old castle at Blithfield.

GANS AFTER ERNE.

Ready to Give ex-Champion Return Fight

-Negro Also Willing to Meet Ferns. There is a chance that Joe Gans and Frank Erne may come together again for the lightweight championship of the world. During the past two weeks Al Herford, manager of Gans, has been in communication with acknowledge that there is any new question Jack Herman, matchmaker of the Interbefore the public. He merely admits national A. C. of Fort Erie. Herford wants that an inquiry is being made into fiscal Herman to offer a purse for such a scrap, and Herman says he will do so provided Erne will agree to meet Gans again. In a letter to THE SUN Herford writes:

was in San Francisco Gans and Young Peter Jackson I was very much surprised to see by the papers that Frank Erne had entered the ring again after declaring that he had retired. I was also pleased to hear that he defeated Walter Zurbrick, although I had no doubt as to the outcome. Now, the night that Gans won the lightweight championship I promised Erne a return match if Gans defeated him. If Erne is anxious for such a fight I will gladly do business with him. All I ask is for the International A. C. to guarantee a reasonable purse, with the privilege of working on a percentage basis, the winner take all or the purse to be divided, 75 per cent, to the winner and 25 per cent, to the loser. I will make the match at whatever weight suits Erne, and will expect both parties to post $1,000 as a guarantee for weight.

"I read an account in one of the papers where Erne was getting heavy and would have to go in the welterweight class. Well, I will let Gans meet him at any weight he names. If Erne does not want any more of Gans's game, and if the Fort Erie club thinks well enough of Rube Ferns's drawing powers to guarantee a purse, I will let Gans fight Ferns at 140 pounds ringside." won the lightweight championship I promised

HERR CONRIED'S OPERA PLANS.

WILL PRODUCE "PARSIFAL" IN THIS CITY ON DEC. 21.

Ten Performances of the Opera During the Season-Will Cost the Director $8,000 a Night-Van Rooy and Ternina Among the Artists Engaged.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. VIENNA, July 25 .- Heinrich Conried, the director of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, in an interview printed here defends himself against the attacks on him for his decision to produce "Parsifal" in New York next season, declaring that it is an act of reverence toward the great composer. Its production, owing to the absence of a copyright treaty between the United States and Germany, is open to any small manager, who might have taken the piece on a tour and made a parody of it. Mr. Conried said:

"I have the greatest and most fashionable theatre in New York, though it is still primitive in its arrangements. For the production of "Parsifel" alone I am spending $65,000 for alterations of the stage and also paying Lautenschlager of Munich, the celebrated inventor of the revolving stage, a large sum to go to New York.

"The costumes and decorations will cos $30,000. The former are from Blaschke, and the latter from Burghart, both of Vienna. The costumes were especially designed by Teffler, the costume designer of the Vienna Court Opera. Before all. I am endeavoring to procure artists who will breathe life into the Bayreuth play. I have made contracts for "Parsifal" Van Rooy, Amfortas, Ternina and Kundry. I have also engaged Felix Mottl and Herz, of Breslau to direct the orchestra of 100 pieces. The first performance will take place on Dec. 21. "Parsifa!" will be given in New York only, and there not more than ten times. The pay of th artists will amount to $8,000 a night. If all the seats were sold they would bring in $9,700. There is, therefore, no question of moneygrabbing, which has been charged.

"I have engaged Caruso, Kraus, Naval, Dippel, Scotti, Calvé, Sembrich, Gadski, Schumann-Heink and other eminent artists, and have made a provisional arrangement with Edith Walker, the brilliant contralto of the Vienna Court Opera, who has resigned. If her resignation is accepted she will join me; otherwise I must wait. I should also like to take Fraulein Selina Kurz and Messrs. Demuth and Sl zak away from Vienna, but I do not believe in inducing artists to break their contracts by offering large salaries. European managers, however, must meet me in granting vacation appointments to their artists. I have already made arrangements looking to this end with Director Hahler, and Intendant Possart of Munich. Only in case of continued refusals will I reserve the right of getting artists in any way I can."

Senator Horace White Drives Wiss Whitney a Half Mile in 1:01 1-2.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 25 .- State Senator Horace White created a sensation among local horsemen at the State Fair mile track vesterday afternoon by driving his bay mare 1:01%. Senator White surprised even himself, for the track was slow and he had a poor start. The first quarter was covered in 0:31½, and the second in 0:30½. The Senator did not drive fast until within about one hundred yards of the wire. Senator White accomplished his feat in a trial against time in the Syracuse Driving Club's matinée races, with Sally Hook as pacemaker. This was the first fast work Miss Whitney had done this season. The former record was made by True Chimes, three years ago, in a Grand Circuit meet in New York, when A. F. Perren sent that animal a half in 1:02%.

GEN. WARD WAS A WAR HERO.

FOUGHT IN TWO CONFLICTS; NINE TIMES WOUNDED.

He Organized Two Regiments of Scott Life Guards in the Civil War-Tributes to Him by Gen. Scott and Gen. Sickles -Widely Known in Masonie Circles.

Gen. John Henry Hobart Ward, who was killed by a train at Monroe, N. Y., on Friday, was one of the most distinguished soldiers hailing from this State. He was also one of the most distinguished members of the Masonic order.

Gen. Ward did not thrust his war service upon the public very often. He lived quietly. But among old soldiers, and paricularly among the very few now surviving, who fought in both the Mexican and the civil war, Gen. Ward's name was frequently spoken of and generally in terms of the greatest praise. He celebrated his eightieth birthday on June 17 last.

Gen. Ward was born in New York city and he never made his home anywhere His father fought in the war of 1812 and his grandfather fought in the Revolution. Both of them got wounds and were afterward pensioners of the Government. Gen. Ward was wounded nine times himself and was a pensioner of two wars. He enlisted in the Seventh United States Cavalry at the age of 18, just after he had graduated from Trinity Collegiate School n this city.

He said he wanted to rise from the ranks and he did. In four years he was a Sergeant-Major. He served as such through the Mexican war with the famous Seventh Cavalry and was wounded in a charge at

At the end of the Mexican war Gen. Ward came back to New York and served as Assistant Commissary-General and Commissary-General of this State from 1851 to

Gen. Winfield Scott asked Gov. King to make him Commissary-General, and he did so in a letter in which he said: "Gen. Ward served with me in the camaign between Vera Cruz and the City of Mexico with great activity and distinction and has always cherished the character of a good citizen, good solider and a gentle-When the civil war began Gen. Ward organized the Thirty-eighth New York Volunteers. They got the name of the Scott Life Guards. He also helped to organize another regiment under this name and it was after these two regiments had fought through some of the greatest battles of the war and been mentioned time and time again that Gen. Scott, in 1868, thanked en. Ward in a letter in which he work Volun-"The two regiments of New York Volun-Guards,' organized by you, have done great honor to my name and, what is better

At Gettysburg he was in command of a division of the Third Corps and was assigned to command a position in front of Little Round Top, which he held against successive attacks of the enemy. Gen. Sickles asked that he be made a Major-General for his conduct in a despatch to the War Department in which he said: "His services have been so conspicuou

GOLF RESULTS ON MANY LINKS. More Matches Arranged for the Oxford and Cambridge Team.

A special meeting of the Executive Committee of the United States Golf Association was held on Friday night at Boston. It was attended by Mesers. Windeler Heebner and Ballou, Messrs. Martin, Taylor and Larkin being represented by proxies. The final arrangements were made for the matches under the auspices of the U.S.G.A. with the visiting team of Oxford and Cambridge players. The All-Eastern match will be played at Garden City on Aug. 29, and the match with the picked team of the U. S. G. A. amateurs, at the Nassau Countyr Club, on Sept. 7. Walter J. Travis will be the captain for the two American teams. The selection for the Eastern team will be made by Travis, acting with Messrs. Windeler and Ballou, and for the U. S. G. A. team the players will be chosen by Travis and the Executive Committee of the U. S. G. A. The single matches will be played to a finish, halves being decided by keeping on for an extra hole, and each match will count one point. This is, the system adopted for the annual match between the English and Scotch amateurs.

It was also decided that the Oxford and Cambridge team will visit Canada, on Aug. 30. to Sept. 4, and that a three-day tournament will be arranged for the visitors at the Ekwanok Country Club, Manchester, Vt., on Sept. 14 to 17. There will be thirty-two starters, including the visitors, the rounds to be at eighteen holes, except the final, which will

An obstacle contest, the first on record in golf, was decided yesterday over a selected five holes of the Ardsley club course. Starting out, the players had to drive through a barrel 100 yards from the tee. The second drive was from the middle of Broadway to the eleventh green. The regular twelfth green was the third hole, but hurdles had to be carried at odd places. The fourth hole was from the thirteenth tee to the fifteenth green, and the last hole was from the tenth toe to the home green, but, instead of holding out, the ball had to be sent by a mashie shot through a barrel.

F. C. Weehmar, 81, 18-43; A. De Witt Cochrane.

Fox Hills sent its second team to the Marine and Field Club course, at Bath Beach, yesterday, for the first half of a home and home team match, which, after a good contest, 23 Physicians Baffled for 8 Years by a Case That a C. ange in Food Cured in 6 Weeks.

There is almost miraculous power in a change of food if the right food be taken

A case said to be without parallel is that of a paralyzed and dumb child whom 23 different doctors were puzzled over yet who recovered his speech in two weeks and finally got entirely well by using the scientific food Grape-Nuts. This child's mother was asked to tell about the case and said: "Six years ago without a moment's warning my boy went off into convulsions. He had three the first day and for nearly 6 years he had from three to 60 spasms a day, all of very short duration but very severe. He lost his speech entirely and lost the use of his legs and arms, also of his nerve centres, being paralyzed so that he was perfectly helpless and dumb. I fed him with a teaspoon and we had him treated by physicians in many of the large cities throughout the country without being able to get any help at all. "In all 23 different physicians examined and treated my boy and all pronounced his case without parallel in medical history so far as they knew and beyond the reach of medical science. His bowels never moved without physic, go ing as long as three weeks. His lower bowels could not handle food the least bit starchy. "He did not seem to have a disease of any kind and as the physicians were all gave up hope. The doctors said his nerves and brain were affected and poor circulation and cerebrospinal irritation caused his convulsions. He had as high as 200 convulsions in two weeks, as many doctors can testify. "Now comes the wonderful part of the tale, for he had not taken Grape-Nuts one week when his bowels moved and inside of two weeks he began to talk, only being able to say words of one syllable at first. In 6 weeks he has improved beyond comprehension and his case, which has astonished so many physicians, has completely yielded to the pure food Grape-Nuts. We lost nearly everything experimenting with different physicians and specialists, but I shall have to have Grape-Nuts for my boy if I have to beg it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The power of the wrong food to do harm and the power of the pure food to guest and the power of the wrong tood to do narm and the power of the pure food to cure are realized by very few people. The power of Grape-Nuts is proved by trial. Send for particulars by mail of exten-sion of time on the $7,500.00 cooks' con-
